

GERMANY

Gives Her Reason For Firing on Fort San Carlos

Claims it Was to Secure Respect for Blockade

If the Kaiser's Forces Fired on Non-Combatants, Without Notice

GERMANY WILL BE MADE TO ANSWER FOR IT.

Venezuelans Killed by German Shells—Dead and Dying Within the Fort—Conditions That Preceded Intervention in Cuba Now Prevail in South America.

BERLIN, Jan. 23.—Germany has at last officially given the reason for the bombardment of Fort San Carlos. In Reichstag today Baron Von Richtofen, minister of foreign affairs, declared that the bombardment occurred to secure respect for the blockade. He continued: "During the blockade a state of war reigned. Our warships have a right to confiscate the Venezuelan ships."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(Bulletin)—The killing of helpless men, women and children in the village of San Carlos, Venezuela, a miserable hamlet inhabited by a number of inoffensive fishermen and their families, if correctly reported, is likely to make an important change in the Venezuelan situation. The State Department will ask Consul Plumacher and Secretary Russell to thoroughly investigate the affair. If Germany has done firing on non-combatants without notification she will have to answer for it.

Maracaibo, Jan. 23.—The bombardment of Ft. San Carlos by the German cruisers Vineta, Panther and Falke was continued Wednesday afternoon until 6 o'clock. It was resumed yesterday at daybreak.

At 6 o'clock the Panther closed in, and again became actively engaged. The fort replied. At 8 o'clock the engagement was proceeding as fiercely as on Wednesday.

Twelve dead and 15 badly wounded Venezuelan soldiers were counted in the fort at 7 o'clock by the correspondent of the Associated Press.

The Panther left her position close in to Ft. San Carlos, which she took up earlier in the day at 3 o'clock, and joined the Falke. This ship was half a mile outside the bar and about five miles from the fort.

At 3 o'clock the correspondent, in a rowboat, approached one side of the fort, out of range, and from this point witnessed the long-range fire of the German cruisers, which was continued from 3 until 6 o'clock.

The first two vessels at a range of four and one half miles poured in a continuous rain of shell upon the fort, and only stopped firing with the advent of dusk. At six o'clock the German vessels retired seaward, after having made a second ineffectual attempt to land troops in the village of San Carlos, situated at the base of the fort.

The correspondent, who was accompanied by a Government telegrapher bearing a telegram from President Castro to the commandant of San Carlos, landed on the island and entered the fort. The walls of the fort are terribly battered, and there were many evidences of the fierce engagement. Twelve dead Venezuelan soldiers were counted behind the ramparts, and 15 other men, seriously wounded, were lying on a low platform.

The fort is literally covered with pieces of broken shells. It was seen that a great many of the German shells had not exploded. The magazine had a very narrow escape, two shells having come within an ace of penetrating it. The walls of the fort which face toward the entrance of the lake suffered particularly, and were greatly damaged.

It is estimated by the commandant General Bello, that the German ships fired 1,500 shells at Ft. San Carlos.

boat Panther, resumed the bombardment of Fort San Carlos.

Details of the renewed bombardment have not been received, but they are anxiously awaited in Government circles.

President Castro received me in the Minaflores palace and showed me all the official advices from Maracaibo. These reports are unanimous on the point that the German gunboat Panther provoked the incident by opening fire on the fort.

While several Venezuelan soldiers were killed and wounded the bombardment does not appear to have been effective.

The last dispatch from General Bello, the commander of the fort, announces his belief that he can hold the fort indefinitely, and that he is determined to do so.

The Vineta and the Gazelle during the whole of Wednesday lay outside the reach of the fort's guns. On two occasions the Panther steamed in and tried to pass the fort but owing to the heavy fire was forced to retire.

"I have instructed General Bello," said President Castro, "to make no useless sacrifice of men. He assures me that the vessels cannot pass the fort even if it is reduced to ruins."

"And now what do you think in Washington?" inquired the Venezuelan President. "Will they not see that the Germans do not want peace, but are forcing a war? For the sake of obtaining a settlement I yielded to the allied Powers and consented to hard conditions. The Germans reply by firing upon a Venezuelan fort every day, and yet Mr. Bowen as the Commissioner of Venezuela is in Washington, with full power and every opportunity to satisfy the exaggerated demands."

President Castro concluded his remarks by saying: "But it's war now."

Judging from reliable dispatches received by merchants in Caracas from mercantile agents in Maracaibo, the renewed bombardment of Fort San Carlos has been more successful than the attack Wednesday. These advices show that at noonday the fort was a huge mass of ruins. General Bello, the commander of the fort, was still in possession and not all of his guns had been dismounted. None of the German vessels had succeeded in passing the fort. It is believed, however, that an evacuation will take place.

From the same sources I learn that the village of San Carlos has been set on fire by shells from the German vessels and that it has been completely destroyed.

Many noncombatants have been killed and wounded.

Telegraphic communication between Caracas and Barquisimeto has been re-established. Barquisimeto is still in the possession of the government.

VERY ALARMING

Is the Venezuelan Situation, Think the United States Congressmen.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Following are the views of some of the leading Senators and Representatives on the Venezuelan situation:

Senator Stephen B. Elkins—The Venezuelan situation looks serious, even alarming to me. Everything in this latest bombardment has a bad effect. If the facts have been correctly reported, Germany is certainly going too far. The idea is taking hold of the public. The stock market is beginning to feel the effects.

Senator Joseph B. Foraker—In view of my position on the Foreign Relations committee I do not feel justified in discussing so serious a matter.

Senator Cullom, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee—The fact of the German warships in bombarding a Venezuelan fort after accepting the proposition to arbitrate certainly has a strange aspect. It is a matter, however, that I do not wish to discuss, but I am anxious to have all the facts in connection with the affair.

General C. H. Grosvenor (Ohio)—If any protest ought to be made, the State Department, I have no doubt, will attend to it. Discussion of the matter is ineffectual.

Representative Sheldon (Michigan)—The bombardment of San Carlos fort by Germany looks to me like a breach of faith, to say the least.

BANK

Robbed By a Gang of Six

Officers Now Close on the Trail

BURGULARS GOT AWAY WITH SIX THOUSAND DOLLARS

BUT OVERLOOKED A BIG PILE.

Wires Were Cut, But Belmont County Officers Were Soon After the Escaping Men.

Zanesville, O., Jan. 23.—The private bank of E. J. Hogue & Company at Somerton, nine miles south of Barnesville, known as the Belmont Bank, was blown open between three and four o'clock this morning by a gang of burglars who escaped with $6,000 in cash.

At noon today a message comes from eastern Ohio that the Sheriff of Belmont county and a posse is only two hours behind the robbers and the prospect is that the men will be caught near the Ohio river.

A gang of at least four and possibly six men broke into the bank this morning and with three charges of dynamite wrecked the bank safe but they failed to get into the inner vault which contained $15,000. The safe was wrecked by the three explosions and the men in getting away hurriedly with $6,000 overlooked $500 more in sacks found this morning in the debris.

The explosion created no disturbance in the town and only one man is believed to have heard it. He telephoned the cashier after looking out of his window and seeing the bank window shades disarranged, but by the time the officers of the bank reached the building the robbers were well out of town, having stolen two horses and two buggies to effect their escape.

As a precaution the burglars had cut all the telephone and telegraph wires leading from the little town so that it was 5 o'clock this morning before the officers of Barnesville were aware of the robbery.

The gang was seen going through Beallsville, Monroe county, at 5 o'clock this morning, being headed in the direction of Powhatan on the Ohio river in the northeastern corner of Monroe county. The Sheriff of Belmont county who with a posse is pursuing the robbers, reached Beallsville at 7 o'clock this morning and as the horses which the pursuing officers got here are fresh it is thought that the gang can not escape.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT

Belleaire, O., Jan. 23.—This morning robbers forced an entrance to the city bank at Somerton. They blew open the safe and secured between $5,000 and $6,000. At the edge of the town the robbers broke open the barn of James Gray took a valuable horse and wagon and escaped across the country. Two men and a boy who were loafing around the town yesterday are supposed to be the robbers. The money taken was mostly in coin.

Snelling-Barclay.

Mr. D. L. Snelling who is an employee of the Star Bakery, and Miss Genetta Barclay, two well known young people of this city, were married on Thursday afternoon. The ceremony took place at the parsonage of St. Paul's Lutheran church at 7 o'clock and was performed by the pastor, Rev. J. C. Schindler. The bride was a former parishioner of the Rev. Mr. Schindler in Fairfield county, and is very highly spoken of. They have the best wishes of all their friends.

Colorado Bank Failure.

Silverton, Colo., Jan. 23.—The report of the failure of the failed bank of Silverton was filed this morning. It shows total liabilities of $177,718.57, and assets worth one-third of that amount. Creditors will get about 25 cents on the dollar. James H. Roblin, who was president and the bank, when he was inevitable, committed suicide.

DEITSCH

Well Known Head of Cincinnati Police Force Passed Away This Morning at Ten O'Clock.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 23.—Philip H. Deitsch, superintendent of the Cincinnati police force, died at 10:20 this morning.

Colonel Deitsch who had been suffering from bronchial pneumonia since last Thursday and for several days it was known that his death was imminent. The dead chief had been a member of the Cincinnati police force since the close of the Civil War and had been at the head of the department since 1886. When he took charge the force, which had been conducted on a political basis, was badly demoralized. Deitsch re-organized it on a non-partisan basis, and brought it up to a standard which it is claimed is unequalled in the country. Colonel Deitsch was born in Bavaria in 1840 and came to America in 1856.

BLAST

Exploded Too Soon In Tunnel

Three Killed and Four Badly Hurt.

ELECTRIC CURRENT TURNED ON BY SOME ONE

WITHOUT RECEIVING A SIGNAL.

Accident Occurred This Morning at Pittsburg—Names of the Men Who Were Killed.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 23.—Three men were killed and four badly injured at 7 o'clock this morning in the Eastern and Wabash tunnel. The accident occurred about 300 feet toward the eastern heading from the shaft on Virginia avenue, Mount Washington, between Bertha and Ulysses streets. It was due, it is said, to some one turning on the electrical current without receiving the proper signal and exploding dynamite ready for the blast. The victims who are dead are:

Frank Taylor, night foreman, 31 years of age, married, crushed to death; Harry Florence, day foreman, single, head blown off, and an unknown man.

BRIBERY

Charge Will be Publicly Investigated—Mr. Lessler to be the First Witness.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The House committee on naval affairs which is to investigate the charge of attempted bribery preferred by Representative Lessler of New York, met this morning at 10:30 and immediately went into executive session to formulate a plan of procedure. The hearing of testimony is to be public. Lessler will be the first witness called. The other witnesses to be heard are ex-Congressman Lemuel E. Quigg of New York, and Phillip Doblin, deputy superintendent of elections of New York.

The particular phase of the subject discussed in the executive session was the matter of counsel who should be admitted as such and what should be their status.

Congressman Lessler said that he was made a member of the naval affairs committee in 1902. He said he was against the Holland boat proposition and was told by Phillip Doblin, a politician, that "ex-Congressman Quigg said if I could be brought to the submarine boat side, it would be worth $5,000 to me." Afterward Lessler saw Quigg who said he had no interest in Holland's boat himself. Lessler then told about his interview with John McCullough, superintendent of elections of New York.

"I met him and he told me that men in New York who could either re-elect or defeat me wanted me to support the Holland bill. I told him I would see them in hell first. Then he wanted me to do it for him. I told him I could not."

GIRLS

Trampled By Men In Panic

Smoke Filled Big Cigar Factory

ALL MAKING A SCRAMBLE FOR ESCAPE.

SEVERAL PEOPLE WERE KILLED

Eight Injured and Seven Are Missing. There Were Many Thrilling Rescues.

New York, Jan. 23.—In a fire this morning eight were injured and seven reported missing. Fire started in the leather establishment of Moshen & Itleson, on the third floor, 159 Crosby street. The employees were quickly gotten out by means of the elevator. Smoke, however, had made its way into the cigar factory of L. Miller & Sons, at 177 Crosby street, and a wild panic occurred. There are 250 girls and 100 men employed in the Miller factory, and when the smoke filled the big rooms they all made a wild scramble for the Elm street side of the building. In the panic men rushed past the girls, crushing them under foot and totally disregarding their weakness in their endeavors to escape. The dead: Mary Saparbara, of 5 Crosby street, crushed to death; Fannie Kirshberg, 5 Avenue B, crushed; Jennie Massimo, 515 East 14th street, crushed. The fire spread to the cigar factory and did much damage. It was under control at 9:30 a. m. A number of thrilling rescues occurred during the blaze.

STANDARD OIL

To Have a Rival Which is Officered and Controlled by Women—New Company Incorporated.

New Decatur, Ala., Jan. 23.—The Standard Oil company is to have a rival. More than this, the new concern is officered and controlled by women—women of wealth, social standing and business ability.

The Great Southern Oil and Development company with a capital stock of $2,000,000, with shares of $25 each, was incorporated Thursday and has already engaged an expert, and ordered three sets of oil drilling machinery and will commence drilling for oil here in the Tennessee Valley of North Alabama just as soon as the machinery arrives.

The company owns 100,000 acres of land in leases and by fee simple and much of their lands are said to be rich in oil, iron, coal and kaolin. It is their purpose to first develop their mineral resources and then to colonize lands that do not contain oil or mines.

The president of the company, is Mrs. P. Collins, a sister of Sir Marcus Samuel, the Lord Mayor of London, England.

LYNCH

Is Found Guilty of Treason

Today He Was Sentenced To Death

IRISH MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT WHO FOUGHT

WITH BOERS AGAINST ENGLAND

Was Convicted After a Brief Trial—His Execution Would Arouse All Ireland.

London, Jan. 23.—Col. Arthur Lynch the Irish member of Parliament, who has been on trial here for several days charged with treason in that he took up arms against the British in the Boer war, was found guilty today, and was immediately sentenced to death. Lynch took his sentence coolly.

When asked if he had anything to say before sentence was passed, he replied, "Thank you, I will say nothing."

When sentence was pronounced he simply bowed his head to the court and was taken away. The Lord Chief Justice gave Mrs. Lynch permission to see her husband.

It is almost certain that death will not be meted out to Lynch. His sentence will probably be reduced to a term of imprisonment, about ten years, by the King, as Ireland will be thrown into a state of red hot indignation should the prisoner be executed.

The death sentence has caused speculation as to how Lynch would be executed should the death verdict be maintained. There are three ways, according to English law, whereby it could be inflicted.

He could be shot or hanged or according to an old English law never repealed, could be hanged, drawn and quartered. The last mentioned punishment has become obsolete by long non-usage.

In January 1900, Lynch went to South Africa. Shortly after his arrival he took service with the Transvaal government, for the purpose, he contended, of expediting his newspaper work. He raised an Irish brigade of which he became the self-appointed colonel. As commander of this brigade he actively fought against General Buller.

When the war was over he returned as far as Paris, but dared not touch English soil, as a warrant was out for his arrest on the charge of high treason. His action in South Africa, however, made him popular in Ireland, and in November, 1901, he was elected a member of parliament from Galway City. His adherents called on him to return to England but for many months he refrained from doing so.

Finally, however, on June 11 he braved the law and crossed the channel. He was arrested on his arrival, a true bill was found against him and he was remanded for trial. His trial began Wednesday.

When court opened today the room was crowded by those who anticipated an early finish. Few witnesses were called by the defense, who handled their side of the case in brief fashion. Counsel Shree for Lynch said that he did not deny that Lynch fought on the Boer side, but this was nothing as his client was a naturalized citizen of the South African Republic.

The defense closed its case this afternoon and counsel Shree began his address to the jury. He said: "Colonel Lynch took the oath of allegiance to the South African republic in order to facilitate his newspaper work and be able to accompany the Boer commanders without fear of court martial."

When he sailed for South Africa he had no idea of becoming a burgher. The trial ended this afternoon with Lynch's conviction.

AURORA BOREALIS

What Returning Members of the Peary and Relief Expeditions Saw in the Far North.

The following is from Frank Wilbert Stokes, "The Aurora Borealis," in the February Century:

It was a trifling past the afterglow of sunset and the sea was a deep rich purple, with long-flowing swells. The sky, a fine light turquoise-blue at the horizon, gradually deepened into a rich cobalt, in which a few stars twinkled. A majority of the men were absorbed in various occupations below, when a call of enthusiasm brought all up on deck. At a point low on the southeast horizon, silently assumed the form of a curtain, waving and mounting upward in two stately columns, past a group of finely-shaped cirro-stratus. In a few seconds it was across the zenith, displaying beautiful pale yellows, greens and delicate pink and blue lights, with edgings, at intervals, of faint purple and red. The columns descended rapidly in ever-varying spirals of perspective, until the avant-garde was lost behind the far northwest horizon. We were about off the Danish port of Godthaab, Greenland, a sufficiently southern latitude at this season for the alteration of day and night; and, as the heavens darkened the stars shone with increasing brightness through this great shimmering veil of light.

The heavens and the sea grew darker and darker, and the aurora brighter and brighter, in lightning changes of form and color, with the green and yellow and blue rays predominating, and the delicate sheen from the aurora's light writhing in fiery serpent forms over the face of the moving waters. What impressiveness, what magnificence! It held the soul as in a spell. There was not much talking. Splendid as it was, I afterward witnessed auroras which produced a deeper impression, due doubtless to the presence of the long night of the far North.

THEORIES ABOUT FOOD.

by druggists, called "Stuart's Ca-

We hear much nowadays about health and hygienic living, about vegetarianism and many other fads along the same line.

Restaurants may be found in the larger cities where no meat, pastry or coffee is served and the food crank is in his glory, and arguments and theories galore advanced to prove that meat was never intended for human stomachs, and almost make us believe that our sturdy ancestors who lived four score years in robust health on roast beef, pork and mutton must have been grossly ignorant of the laws of health.

Our forefathers had other things to do than formulate theories about the food they ate. A warm welcome was extended to any kind from bacon to acorns.

A healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet, and a mixed diet of grains, fruits and meats is undoubtedly the best.

As compared with grains and vegetables, meat furnishes the most nutriment in a highly concentrated form and is digested and assimilated more quickly than vegetables and grains.

Dr. Julius Remmon on this subject says: "Nervous persons, people run down in health and of low vitality should eat meat and plenty of it. If the digestion is too feeble at first it may be easily corrected by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. Two of these excellent tablets taken after dinner will digest several thousand grains of meat, eggs or other animal food in three hours, and no matter how weak the stomach may be, no trouble will be experienced if a regular practice is made of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets because they supply the pepsin and diastase necessary to perfect digestion, and every form of indigestion will be overcome by their use.

The large class of people who come under the head of nervous dyspepsia should eat plenty of meat and insure its proper digestion by the daily use of a safe, harmless digestive medicine like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets composed of the natural digestive principles, pepsin, diastase, fruit acids and salts, which actually perform the work of digestion. Cheap cathartic medicines, masquerading under the name of dyspepsia cures are useless for indigestion as they have absolutely no effect upon the actual digestion of food.

Dyspepsia in all its many forms is simply a failure of the stomach to digest food and the sensible way to solve the riddle and cure the dyspepsia is to make daily use at meal time of a preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which is endorsed by the medical profession and known to contain active digestive principles.

MADAME ZADOC PORTER'S
SEVENTY YEARS A STANDARD

AMUSEMENTS.

No expense has been spared by Walter Fessler, the author and manager of "The Great White Diamond," which will be presented at the Auditorium tomorrow night. It is a melodrama of the cleanest type, full of noble sentiment and truth of character. Where "The Great Ruby" and "Great Diamond Robbery" failed in spirit, "The Great White Diamond" looms up as a relief. It has every essence of human interest and is beyond a doubt the best thing of its kind seen on the local stage. Every bit of bitterness reflected in the many characters is made doubly good for in the fond beliefs and the foolish eccentricities of the many others. The play abounds in sensations. There are more narrow escapes from death on the part of the hero and heroine than in any modern melodrama. The chasm "Swing for Life," the "Human Pendulum," the thunderous "Cliff Explosion" and others make it exciting as well as interesting. And withal it is a love story pure and simple, with every trait of human affection that could be lent to make the play romantic and give it noble intent and a nobler color, and with the aid of that amount of frivolity which is ever necessary in a melodrama, to teach a lesson that may well be learned to that which is best in nature and humanity. "The Great White Diamond" is full of interesting material and ranks as the best endeavor of its well-known author.

A LUSTY SEA CAPTAIN

Every town has its Mauchausen, and every forecastle has its liar, but the father of them all was Jeff Weller, cook of the good ship Trident, Captain Helling, plying between South street, New York, and the West Indies. Said the captain:

"Weller was capable of some of the most artistic lies in or out of Shakespeare, and if he'd had half a chance his pet sea serpent story alone would have made him famous in literature. 'When I made my first ocean voyage, somewhere between Madagascar and the Golden Gate,' he'd say, 'we all woke up one mornin', with the ship a-rollin' as if she'd roll her sticks out at every lurch. Goff on deck, we saw a serpent a-crawlin' over it, an' 'pon me, soul, sir, 'twas so big it took six hours to git across the deck.'"

"But, Jeff, why didn't you kill it? I asked.

"Why? Why, sir, it was goin' so tartation fast we couldn't!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Columbine.
There are some good reasons adduced by those who favor the claims of the columbine as a national flower. The colors of the wild varieties are red, white and blue. The flower is purely American, quite widespread, hardy, graceful, beautiful. The petals are perfect "liberty caps," reversed they are "bushes of plenty." Columbine comes from the Latin columba, a dove; the peaceful derivation of the word accords well with our national policy; the name also recalls Columbus, the great navigator and discoverer. The flower also lends itself well to a conventional architectural decoration.

Marriage in the Army.
There's a rum in the army that a certain general said:
That none of his lieutenants should be allowed to marry.
He says the pay is far too small a family to support.
We will admit it is, sir, and this is our report.

You think the pay is far too small for wife and children, too.
But suppose it were a lot more, what would you do?
Around the army table in our desperation tarry
And low our heads and bow our backs and bow our heads
And we'd be saved and saved and saved and saved and saved
Look out, Mr. General! Our uncle needs us all.
And we love the old army, though the pay is heartless small.
But we'll send our commissions if you won't let us recruit.

CONTRAST

DR. ADOLPH LORENZ' BLOODLESS METHOD

For Reduction of Congenital Dislocation of the Hip—The Osteopathic Method.

The operation upon the little daughter of J. Ogden Armour of Chicago, for congenital dislocation of the hip, by the celebrated Austrian physician, Dr. Adolph Lorenz, has attracted wide spread attention throughout all parts of the United States, on account of the prominence of the family of this little five year old patient, and for the reason that the operation was performed by a foreign physician for a princely fee.

The public press of late has teemed with accounts of this so-called new operation, which is known as the "bloodless method," in contrast to the old surgical method, where the knife was used and much blood was spilt, as by this method the hip was stripped of its muscles and many of them severed that the head of the femur might be placed into its socket. In many instances also the socket was gouged out and made larger in order to receive the head of the thigh bone more completely.

This last method has but few advocates today among up to date surgeons. The results of this operation have been unsatisfactory in so many instances that it is seldom advised. It might be stated here that this operation was performed upon the Armour child when she was two years old. The hip was laid open with the knife, the head of the bone was placed into its socket, the usual cast was placed about the hip to hold it in position, the surgeon was paid his big fee, but after all this, in the course of several months the hip was found to be out of place again.

The new operation of Lorenz is in many ways, an improvement over the old way, and in some particulars simulates the osteopathic method of setting old dislocations of the hip. The osteopathic method is also bloodless. By the Lorenz method the hip is immediately placed into its socket, it being necessary however to employ sufficient force to rupture the muscles in so doing, a cast is used to hold the parts in position. This is kept on from six to nine months. As Dr. Lorenz says "complete recovery may result in two years but in many instances the patient in after years walks lame." In such cases even though the hip is in the socket lameness may be caused by restriction of motion brought about by the adhesions that result from the rupture of the tissues about the hip. By the osteopathic method the tissues about the hip are loosened and old adhesions gradually broken up before it is set that rupture may be avoided. By this gradual relaxation of muscles the tendency for the hip to slip out of place after reduction is decreased. There are no adhesions from rupture of muscles. No tortuous cast. Where reduction is made by this method recovery is rapid and complete. It might be stated in this connection that the Lorenz method, as well as the osteopathic method of today, had no standing among physicians of the old school until just recently.

Many of the old school surgeons decry it. They want the knife that they can see what they do. They regard nature's resources, so far as they affect the human system, as inadequate to their purposes.

The following appeared in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Sunday, October 19:

Osteopathy Successfully Applied in Many Cases of Dislocated Hip.
As related in the Post-Dispatch of

CURING CONSUMPTION.

When Scott's Emulsion makes the consumptive gain flesh it is curing his consumption.

Exactly what goes on inside to make the consumptive gain weight when taking Scott's Emulsion is still a mystery.

Scott's Emulsion does something to the lungs too that reduces the cough. More weight and less cough always mean that consumption is losing its influence over the system.

Scott's Emulsion is a reliable help.

Last Tuesday, Dr. Lorenz is not the only physician who has successfully performed operations like that performed upon Lolita Armour. The case of Fannie Granger, which was the subject of the Post-Dispatch story, is one of the cases in question. The operation was performed by Dr. William Bailey of St. Louis, an osteopathic physician. Dr. A. T. Still, the discoverer of osteopathy, writes of numerous cases where similar operations have been performed by physicians of the osteopathic school. Dr. Still says:

"The system of reducing old dislocations of the hip and also dislocations of other parts of the body is now practiced by over 2500 osteopaths in the United States. The case of little Fannie Granger of St. Louis, Mo., who was recently successfully treated by Dr. M. W. Bailey for dislocation of the hip is only one of hundreds of similar cases successfully treated by osteopathic physicians in all parts of the country. Hundreds of cases of congenital and acquired dislocations of the hip have been successfully treated at Kirksville by me and my assistants during the past 25 years.

"One of the most marked differences in the methods of Dr. Lorenz and that of the osteopath in reducing dislocations is that the osteopath does this work without the use of anesthetics, braces or casts. The hip is usually prepared for reduction by carefully breaking up all adhesions about the joint, and then is set by a system of manipulations. As a rule osteopaths do not set dislocated hips without first going through a course of treatment to establish sufficient motion in the part to allow the head of the bone to be moved around into its socket without rupturing any ligaments or muscles. But there are a number of cases where hips have been set at a single treatment only lasting a few minutes.

"The osteopaths all over this country are successfully practicing my method."—Journal of Osteopathy.

STREET CRIES IN CAIRO.

Sounds and Voices That Travelers Hear in the Egyptian City.

Take a chair outside a busy cafe near the market place and train center and watch street life. There are no hungry men, no starving, pinched child faces, no finger worn mothers, for this is a land of plenty, and the people's wants are few and simple. Thus sunshine and laughter spray a welcome fragrance over the novelty and romance of the gay city's streets. Here is a street melodist twanging a monster one stringed "something" and accompanied by a nose ringed girl who taps deftly on a species of tambourine, while bystanders ejaculate "Allah, Allah!"—the Arabic word for applause. If not quite in accord with your prejudices concerning music, well, manliness (never mind), it is not nearly so distracting as a street corner at home, and they will go away if you tell them to. The baboon, the donkey and boy are in evidence, with a score of performing tricks that are very original and certainly funny, and you console yourself with the hope of a minimum of cruelty in the training.

A fruit seller, basket on head, with luscious grapes and figs, saunters by, singing in a quaint minor: "O grapes, O sweet grapes, that are larger than doves' eggs and sweeter than new cream! O angels' food, delicious figs, bursting with honey, restorers of health!" There is a drink seller, bent under the weight of the odd shaped jar slung over his shoulder, a lump of ice projecting from his mouth, conjuring custom in a similar strain as he struts up and down, making the air resound with the rhythmic clap clap of two brazen saucers: "O refreshment of the weary! O quencher of parched lips! O blessing of heaven!"

Another street cry which may be heard in the main street of Abbassieh, a suburb, contains the following enticing announcement: "Tomorrow, O people, I am going to kill a camel! The doctor says it is young and healthy. Oh, its flesh will be tender as the quail and juicy as lamb! Its price is but 12 piasters (7 cents) a pound. Do you love the sweet flesh of the camel? Then come early and be satisfied!" Not the least picturesque figures in the streets are the city police, in their neat white drill and red turtlenecks in summer and blue serge in winter.

FRUITS AND FLOWERS.

From a twenty-year-old mulberry tree 218 pounds of leaves have been picked in a year.

String beans may be obtained during the entire summer by planting once a month for successive supplies.

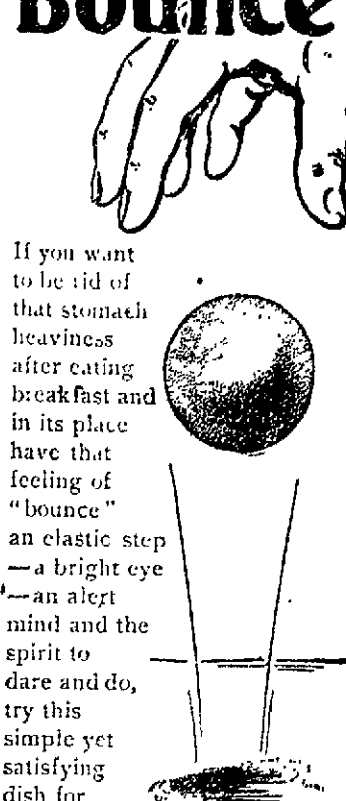

Some trees are much more unfavorable to the growth of plants beneath them than others. The worst are the pear and the ash.

Whenever water is given to pot plants enough should be used thoroughly to wet the soil around the roots. More sprinkling of the surface does but little good.

The next time you see a bouquet of flowers to keep add a very little ammonia to the water in the vase and see how much longer they will last.

One of the most successful of plants for a culture in the yellow wax. It will bloom freely if given water and water, and its long, slender, and gracefully curved branches will be

Sporting Writer Near Death.

New York, Jan. 23.—J. B. McCormick famous for thirty years as a sporting writer, under the name of "Mac", is seriously ill at his home in Bath Beach. "Mac" McCormick was considered a authority in pugilistic matters, and it was he who first launched John L. Sullivan on his pugilistic career, when he matched him to fight John Donaldson in Cincinnati in 1880, billing him as the "coming champion of the world."

Fatal Pugilistic Accident.

Schuette, N. J., Jan. 23.—Eugene McCarthy, the "schoolboy pugilist" of New York, died yesterday from the effects of a blow received in a bout here Wednesday night with Hugh Murphy, also of New York.

McCarthy received the blow in the fifteenth round. It was on the body but the youth fell and his head struck the floor with great force. He became unconscious and all efforts to arouse him were futile. McCarthy was 18 years of age and was a pupil at a New York High school. Murphy, who was arrested pending the result of McCarthy's injuries, was arraigned on the charge of manslaughter. He pleaded not guilty and was held for a hearing on Feb. 4, in the sum of $500.

Providence R. I., Jan. 23.—Governor Garvin said when he heard of the death of a pugilist after a boxing bout at Schuette, "I shall now stop the fight between Corbett and McGovern."

Peace Agreement Ratified.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 23.—The National Baseball League Thursday night concluded its continuous session of four

REV. B. F. PATT

Newark Minister Will Conduct Evangelistic Conference in Zanesville Next Thursday.

Zanesville, Ohio, Jan. 23.—An evangelistic conference will be held on Thursday, January 29. The meetings will be held in the Market street Baptist church. There will be three sessions, forenoon, afternoon and evening.

The conference will be conducted by Rev. B. F. Patt, of Newark, who is a member of the state evangelistic committee. Similar conferences are being held throughout the state. The Zanesville conference is held in the interests of the Zanesville and Cambridge Baptist associations. In these two associations there are thirty-four Baptist churches.

Some of the best speakers in the state will deliver addresses. The three Baptist churches of Zanesville offer free entertainment to all who attend the conference.

The Stothart Family.

Dr. J. P. Letherman who was in the city Friday was seen by an Advocate reporter and questioned in regard to the condition of the members of the Stothart family, who were attacked by Elmer Artz a few days ago, at their home near Outville. Dr. Letherman says that they are getting along as well as could be expected after their rough treatment and terrible experience at the hands of Artz. The daughters who were the chief victims of Artz' brutality, suffered greatly from the bruises he inflicted upon them, but most of all from the nervous shock occasioned by his fiendish attack. It is thought that it will be some time before they thoroughly recover from the nervous shock.

DEATH OF A CHILD.—The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Palmer died at the home of the parents on Maiden street Friday morning after a short illness, aged two weeks.

The family is in very destitute circumstances, and it is said that the Watsons, a circle of the King's Daughters have been furnishing the family with coal, food and clothing for the past week.

Towns Near Newark.

'FESSED UP

That He Had Been Married Before and Compromised With His Fiance for Forty Cents.

Lancaster, O., Jan. 23.—A couple appeared at the Probate office during the afternoon. The man, John Bloom, is a resident of this city. The bride to be was Miss Friend from Carroll.

When questioned by Judge Holland the man "fessed up" that he had two previous matrimonial ventures. He had not confided this fact to his blushing fiancée, and when she heard him plead guilty she made up her mind that she didn't want to marry him. She gave him the "clummy mitt." She said she felt that she had been grossly deceived and her feelings lacerated. She wanted financial salve for her hurt, and mentioned something about a law suit.

The groom that was to be got-footed to an attorney's office and told his troubles. The attorney waited upon the bride that would not be, and after indulging in a line of talk that would have placated an enraged princess, it is asserted, compromised with her for forty cents, the price of a railroad ticket home.

A PIONEER DEAD.

Uricksville, O., Jan. 23.—Daniel Kennedy one of the oldest citizens of this vicinity, is dead, at the age of 83 years. Mr. Kennedy was a pioneer of Harrison county. When a boy he drove a team of horses across the mountains to Washington, carrying a live deer which he presented to President Andrew Jackson.

SUDDEN DEATH NEAR HEBRON.

Hebron, O., Jan. 23.—Miss Gertrude Geiger the 20 year old daughter of Peter Geiger, died Thursday afternoon at the home of her father one mile north of town, after only 24 hours' illness with uraemic poisoning. Miss Geiger's sudden death has been a great shock to her many friends in this locality. The funeral will take place Saturday at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, Rev. Mr. McColl, the Baptist minister, officiating.

INSANE

Was Austin C. Cochran the Frazeeysburg Stockman Adjudged at Zanesville.

Zanesville, O., Jan. 23.—Austin C. Cochran, a prominent resident of Frazeeysburg, was adjudged insane in probate court Thursday. The affidavit in lunacy was filed by Dr. J. Corn. Cochran has been a dealer and speculator in live stock, and financial losses. It is thought, brought about his present condition. About one month ago he took an overdose of nerve medicine and spent a night in a corn field near his home. When rescued he was in a pitiable plight.

The unfortunate man is the father of several children. Just one year ago to a day he took as his second wife Rosa A. Horn. His domestic life was pleasant. Since the attack came on about two months ago, however, Cochran has imagined that it was his duty to kill his wife, and one daughter and then take his own life. Another hallucination is that his brother is insane and is allowing his live stock to starve.

Cochran, who is 52 years of age, was seized with an attack of insanity about twentyfive years ago, which lasted two months. The present attack has lasted about the same length of time.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.

Pataskala, O., Jan. 23.—Department Grand Master John Day, of Kirk lodge, No. 587, I. O. O. F., assisted by Stephen Nessley and T. B. Clark, installed the following officers of Pataskala Valley lodge, No. 408 on Thursday night: N. G., George Palmer. W. G., G. S. Smith. Secretary, Seymour Smith. Treasurer, E. O. Arrison. Warden, H. M. Layton. I. G., E. McIntosh. O. G., John Donavin. R. S. to N. G., Reed McArthur. R. S. to V. G., Lewis Longstreth. Chaplain, Joseph Axline.

BABY FOUND DEAD.

Martinsburg, O., Jan. 23.—Carl, the three-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl VanVoorhis, was found dead in his bed yesterday. The previous night the infant was restless, but was apparently well. In the morning the parents thought it had slept long enough, and, going to its bed, found that it was dead.

GIANT STRIDES.

Connoisseurs, the fashionable world, those whose palates easily detect superiority in excellence, set the stamp of approval, and by general adoption are advancing the popular brand of Moet & Chandon "White Seal" Champagne towards exclusive use at a very rapid pace. The increase in sales for the year 1902 over 1901 was 367,116 bottles, a record never before attained in the history of the Champagne trade, marking a gain equal to 564 per cent greater than the combined increase of all the other brands of Champagne. Moet & Chandon White Seal is acknowledged as "The Acme of Perfection."

More Liquor Cases.

The case against William Moore charged with selling liquor on Sunday and keeping his saloon open, was decided by Mayor Forry, Thursday afternoon, the defendant being found guilty. George Fink, who was tried Friday was found guilty of selling liquor, but was acquitted of the charge of keeping his saloon open on Sunday. In both of these cases motions for new trials will be heard Monday, pending which the imposing of a fine will be deferred. The other liquor cases have been continued until February 2. Hay is the most profitable crop in England. Scotland shipped 11,379,422 tons of coal last year, constituting a record.

BROOKS' ORCHESTRA.

Thomas Preston Brooke, the famous musical composer and conductor, has in his possession what is probably one of the most unique requests ever received by a leader. Brooke was playing a season engagement in Louisville when he got the request, which reads as follows:
Before you leave here won't you please play for one of your concerts all of the old songs for five hundred years back? If you can't get them back that far, see if you can't go back fifty years any way, as such a concert would be very interesting and instructive, and I will surely come if I see it in the papers. In playing these songs please don't forget "Whoa, Emma," "Carve dat Possum," "The Kicking Mule," "Down Went McGinty," "After the Ball" and "Father, dear Father, Come Home With Me Now."

QU'VILLE.

Several cases of small pox on York street, not any more in Outville.

Frank Cunningham moved to Outville Tuesday 20.

Ira Alward went to Columbus on Wednesday to see his daughter, Pearl who has been seriously ill for some time with typhoid fever. Alward desired to bring her home with him but she was in too precarious a condition to be moved. Miss Pearl's many friends hope that she will soon recover.

John Camp was the victim of an accident, whereby he injured one of his ankles very badly.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Winter went to Columbus Sunday, Jan. 18, to visit their children.

Exposure to a sudden climatic change produces cold in the head and catarrh is apt to follow. Provided with Eli's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh. Price 50c at Druggists or Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York will mail it. The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and aching surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation, cleanses and cures. Cream Balm quickly cures the cold.

MRS. PLACE

Died Early Friday Morning at the City Hospital, Leaving Two Children.

Ill Since Monday

Mrs. Jennie Place, wife of William H. Place of 60 Clinton street, died at the City Hospital at 4:30 Friday morning, after an illness since last Monday of congestion of the liver and uraemic poisoning, aged 33 years.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Albert Donaldson and leaves besides her husband, two children and seven brothers and sisters.

Mrs. Place was a woman of the highest character and her death is deeply deplored by all who knew her.

5,000 Wanted to Marry.

New York, Jan. 23—By the arrest of a man who the police say is William G. Furlong, an alleged scheme to fleece the public has been brought to light. The police say that Furlong has been advertising in New York and Philadelphia papers for a "gentleman who would be willing to marry a lady he has never met and from whom he would be expected to secure a divorce as soon as possible after the marriage."

The advertisement said it was necessary in order to settle an estate, for the woman to marry, and the accepted suitor would receive $20,000. As soon as an answer was received a circular would be sent in which the applicant was asked to send $1 for a picture of the woman. The police say 5,000 answers were received.

Respectfully Yours,
